I'm a storyteller with a bubbly creativity, a deep love for acting, and a natural flair for entertaining. From live streaming, I've built a unique skill set that combines charisma, adaptability, and real emotional resonance. I bring positive energy, a strong work ethic, and a genuine love for collaboration into every role. I believe great performances come from being fully present and fully you—and I bring that authenticity to every project I'm a part of.

I'm a naturally expressive and intuitive performer. I bring contagious energy, professionalism, and emotional range to every character. I thrive in fast-paced environments, take direction with ease, and love diving deep into the characters I embody. My experience as a live host has helped me stay grounded, become a quick thinker, and adaptable, making me a strong asset to any production. I'm always up for a challenge, and I show up ready—with heart, hustle, and a smile!
